TTP Afraid of Courage and Bravery of Police

After continuous successes of police against terrorism, TTP is deeply afraid of growing popularity of police among Pakistani nation especially in Khyber Pakhtunkhwa.

The real motives behind TTP's anti-police narrative are:

- Police has emerged as an example of courage and is inflicting heavy casualties to terrorists.
- Police force is devoted to the spirit of martyrdom likewise Army and thwarting terrorist attacks.
- Popularity of police among public is increasing and locals are supporting them.
- Terrorist and extortionist Khawarij advising police to obtain rightful income is absurd.
- Terrorists who target women and children are worried over growing public hatred.

TTP has released a fake video called "Zer-e- Nazar" based on all old and mostly other province incidents, while in reality terrorist leadership is afraid of Khyber Pakhtunkhwa police, even more than the army, because they know that it is local police and after its ever increasing independence, there will be no room left for terrorists and their facilitators.
