South Waziristan: Afghan Terrorist Killed By Firing of Local Tribes

Bullet-riddled body of Afghan terrorist has been recovered from Spin Khar Nullah adjacent to Karama area of South Waziristan.

According to details, slain terrorist demanded food and shelter from local population, who was shot dead by locals and his body was thrown into a nearby nullah.

TTP lures Afghan nationals to Pakistan for so-called jihad and money, then leaves them in a state of despair either at the hands of locals or after being killed in terrorist activities, their bodies are dumped in forests and nullahs.
