North Waziristan: Khawarij Suicide Attack on Oil and Gas Exploration Company's Convoy

TTP Khawarij carried out suicide attack on convoy of Oil and Gas exploration company MPCL near Mir Ali, North Waziristan, with an aim to obstruct prosperity and development of the area.

Suicide bomber intended to ram a rickshaw with explosives into Oil and Gas company's convoy, which was stopped by security personnel on duty saving convoy from major disaster. One company official was martyred, while injured ones being given prompt medical treatment.

Suicide attacks are forbidden in the light of Quran and Sunnah, scholars of Pakistan from all schools of thought have unanimously and repeatedly given fatwas against terrorism and suicide attacks, but alas, Khawarij continue to further their anti islam agenda, who have fallen into the depth of atheism and hypocrisy.

TTP compelled to resort to suicide attacks due to continuous defeat on ground at the hands of security forces and is now operating against locals well-being by targeting major economic projects like MPCL to prevent development and prosperity of the region.

Timely investigation to look out for facilitators started after attack. Meanwhile, a terrorist has been arrested in injured condition. Though involvement of Afghan nationals in suicide attacks is evident prior this incident. Locals expressed intense anger against TTP for attacking poor Pashtuns livelihoods.
