North Waziristan: TTP Suicide Attack Foiled

A TTP suicide bomber tried to target security forces' convoy in Eidak area of North Waziristan. The suicide bomber was killed in the attack, while three innocent locals got slightly injured.

According to details, suicide bomber tried to target security forces' convoy when it was passing through a bridge in a densely populated area.

As a result of timely action of security forces, the suicide bomber failed to come near the convoy and was forced to detonate prematurely and ended up in hell himself. Security personnel remained unharmed in the attack, while three locals got injured, who were given medical treatment by the security forces; they are out of danger

Owing to continuous failure on ground, TTP's Khawarij are suffering from severe mental anguish and are forced to carry out suicide attacks, in which Afghan terrorists are being used. Insha Allah, soon these TTP Khawarij and their facilitators will be brought to a terrible end in the same way.
